Data Analyst Portfolio

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to my portfolio!

I'm passionate about data analysis and problem-solving. This space showcases my journey of turning raw data into meaningful insights using tools like Excel, SQL, Python, and Power BI. Each project reflects my growth, creativity, and commitment to delivering clear, actionable, and visually engaging solutions.

ABOUT ME

I'm passionate about solving problems, exploring data, and making data-driven decisions. With over 7 years of experience in administration, retail sales, and social media management, I've seen how powerful data can be in driving business growth – which inspired my journey into data analysis

I am currently building skills in Excel, SQL, Python, and Power BI to perform data cleaning, analysis, and visualization. Running my skincare business taught me the importance of understanding customer behavior and sales trends, deepening my interest in using data to generate actionable insights.

When I'm not analyzing data, I enjoy experimenting with skincare formulations, binge-watching tech tutorials, and exploring creative ways to visualize insights.
